

Welcome to Your 2026 Study Planner

This planner supports your study planning by providing an overview of unit availability across the academic year.

Units may not be offered in every trimester or in all delivery modes (on campus or online). To ensure accuracy, always check the official course information on the APIC website.

APIC reserves the right to cancel unit offerings where minimum enrolment requirements are not met.

How to Use This Study Planne:

1. Visit the APIC website and access your course structure. Select your course, then review the core units and elective units listed.
2. Use the Study Planner Tool to mark units you have already completed or received Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL). Then identify the next units in your course structure. As a guide, students generally enroll in four units per trimester in a Bachelor course or three units per trimester in a Master course, unless approved leave has been granted.
3. Refer to the tables in this planner to see which trimester each unit is typically offered in and use this information to plan your enrolment. Please note any units with prerequisites and ensure these are completed before selecting related units. If you are considering specific elective units, planning ahead and checking their availability can help you avoid missing out. If there are specific electives you would like to choose, plan ahead and check when they are being offered so you do not miss out.
4. If you have questions about enrolment, unit selection, or study planning, contact Student Services for advice.
